BLAIRMORE ADOPTS FAST TIME AT MIDNIGHT

Following a poll taken at the town office the past two weeks, when 229 citizens registered approval of adopting daylight saving time, with 31 against, the town council took necessary action to implement the wishes of the citizens. Notices have been posted throughout town setting midnight tonight, May 23, as the hour when clocks will be advanced one hour.

This move will bring Blairmore in line with the greater part of the district and outside points, as each week sees more communities adopt this advantageous summer time schedule.

SYMBOL-OF WORLD

BROTHERHOOD

The official emblem of the world Scout Jamboree, which is being held in France next August, will be the traditional Scout fleur-de-lis in gold on a background of blue, with a bend in silver. Known to Boy Scouts throughout the world, the carrieck bend is a knot with a two-fold interlacing, and in this instance is used to symbolize the World Brotherhood of Scouting.

HEARING IS BELIEVING!

In the Textile section at Earls Court, London, of the British Industries Fair (May 5th to May 16th) a square shirt or blouse the collar of which can easily be replaced by a new one as soon as the original collar becomes worn-out. In these new shirts and blouses, a loop has been inserted at the back of the collar. By pulling the loop the worn collar detaches itself from the garment, revealing a grooved neck-band. The new collar simply needs to be inserted in the groove, tacked in position and sewn up with a single seam.

CANNING RATIONS

Ten extra ration coupons will again be made valid to consumers this year for canning purposes, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announces.

The "Y" coupons in the present ration book have been set aside for that purpose. Officials said that, as in previous years, the ten pounds of sugar will be divided by declaring valid five coupons at different dates during the canning season. On May 15 coupons Y1 to Y5 inclusive will become valid while another five coupons, Y6 to Y10, will be declared valid July 17.

In May this means that consumers will have a total of seven sugar coupons, as regular coupons S49 and S50 became due May 1. Officials pointed out that while the 10 pounds of sugar is made available primarily for canning purposes, the coupons may also be used for the purchase of rationed jams, jellies and preserves.

REPLACEABLE COLLARS

A Yorkshire firm introduced to trade buyers at the British Industries Fair (May 5th to May 16th) a square shirt or blouse the collar of which can easily be replaced by a new one as soon as the original collar becomes worn-out. In these new shirts and blouses, a loop has been inserted at the back of the collar.

By pulling the loop the worn collar detaches itself from the garment, revealing a grooved neck-band. The new collar simply needs to be inserted in the groove, tacked in position and sewn up with a single seam.

URGE REPAINTING OF PARKING SIGNS

Greater safety on provincial highways is a matter which is receiving the attention of motor clubs, safety councils and other Alberta organizations.

One of these needs is that of a proper centre line on main highways. This has been urged by visitors to the province who have been exposed to driving hazards owing to the lack of this safety factor.

At a recent meeting of officials of the Alberta Motor Association, it was suggested that such a centre line should be established on routes particularly over hills. It was claimed that this would avoid some serious accidents in such locations.

Need of civic or municipal authorities also repainting parking or non-parking spots also has been emphasized by the AMA. It has been found that some centres have neglected this type of painting and motorists have been penalized for improper parking due to the absence of clearly painted signs.

MORE YELLOW ROAD SIGNS

In case you are doing any driving in Calgary, The Herald gives the following information:

City Commissioner V. A. Newhall has approved painting the word "slow" in yellow at various points on city streets a part of the present extensive street traffic marking program being carried out.

The jagged yellow lines crossing streets at some intersections are placed in the vicinity of schools. The idea is that the motorist, perceiving something out of the ordinary will slow down.

Double yellow lines are not to be crossed by vehicles. The single centre line is to facilitate movement of through traffic. Rectangular spaces beside the curb are prohibited for parking. Single through street lines such as run up Centre street near the curb for bicycle lanes. They are not wide enough for two cyclists to ride abreast.

Eventually arrows will designate right and left hand turns and circles will be located at the centres of intersections as the pivotal guide markers. Broken lines will separate cars intending to go left or right on approaching intersections.

NEW MONORAIL TRAIN FOR SUBURBAN LINES

A new type of light monorail train designed to cover suburban lines has just been officially tried out in Paris. It has an 80 HP Panhard motor which uses only 18 liters of fuel for every 100 kilometers. Its average speed is 70 kilometers per hour and it has many comforts, including heating, insulation and leather seats for forty-seven passengers. A large platform will accommodate fifty passengers at rush hours. A wagon carrying six tons of baggage can be attached to it.

The new train, which represents the result of twenty years of experimentation, is called the "FNC La Touraine." The initials are those of the French Federation of Railroad Workers (Fédération Nationale des Cheminots) whose members on the labor-management cooperated closely with engineers and government officials in working out plans for the train.

Pass garage or service stations will be open Sunday till 7 p.m. and evenings of next week till 10 o'clock are Blairmore Motors, Blairmore; Coleman Motors, Coleman; Ladd's Garage, Frank; Bluebird Service Station, Bellevue; Welsh Bros., Hillcrest.

Britain And World Recovery

A GREAT DEAL HAS BEEN HEARD lately concerning England's difficult financial position and her apparent failure to recover quickly and completely from the effects of the war. It would almost seem that in some reports dealing with this subject, there can be detected a note of satisfaction in seeing the British people contending with what is without doubt one of the most critical periods in the history of their country. However, in spite of the adverse conditions there, many observers are confident that Britain will come through this, as she came through the seemingly hopeless months when she stood alone against the powerful and aggressive forces of Germany and Italy. Her people did not give up then, and it is unlikely that they will give up now.

Contributed To Many Countries

If Britain had not remained firm in the early years of the war, so that she could provide the bases, and contribute her might for the invasion of Europe, it is impossible to imagine how long that continent might have remained under German control. Now, in spite of the difficulties she is experiencing in recovering economically from six years of war, Britain has been making generous financial contributions to world recovery. In the United Kingdom House of Commons Mr. Bevin recently gave figures concerning the contributions and loans made either directly or through U.N.R.R.A., to foreign countries. Contributions to U.N.R.R.A. totalled $320,000,000, while the amount given for pre-U.N.R.R.A. European relief, excluding Germany, was $400,000,000. Loans to France totalled $400,000,000 also, and loans and grants to Greece amounted to $166,000,000. In post-U.N.R.R.A. relief has received $220,000,000 from Britain while over $80,000,000 was sent to Australia in loans and grants.

Large Sums Are Non-Repayable

Other financial contributions made by Britain to post-war world recovery included: $240,000,000 in loans and relief to the Netherlands; $120,000,000 to Malta and the same amount to Burma. Hungary had received over $20,000,000 in grants up to March 31st; while grants of $30,000,000 went to Czechoslovakia. In addition to all this, Britain has given financial assistance to Germany amounting to $560,000,000. The total of all the money provided by the United Kingdom for post-war recovery is 2,966 million dollars of which 1,300 million dollars are non-recoverable. Mr. Bevin pointed out that the credits not immediately repayable, while they are outstanding, the same strain on Britain's balance of payments as outward grants of similar amounts would impose at a time when there has been some criticism of Britain's present financial position. It is well to be reminded of what she has contributed to the cause of freedom and to world economic recovery.

Telephone System For Yellowknife

At Yellowknife, in the North-West Territories, a franchise has been awarded which will result in the immediate formation of the Yellowknife Telephone Company Limited, to eliminate present difficulties of "winking" when the flick of a dial will serve the purpose. Scores of business organizations and residents of the booming frontier mining town have pledged financial aid through the purchase of shares in the new company.

There will be a single pattern from a nerve-centre in Yellowknife over hundreds of miles of almost unmarked terrain, connecting up outlying camps such as Glaucus Lake, Salmois-Courageous, Johnston Lake, Indian Lake, Gordon Lake, Pigeon Pass, (the Great Bear Lake), and Great Bear Lake where radium and uranium are produced.

All of these telephones will connect up with the "outside" world by radio hook-in, much the same as that employed in ship-to-shore communications on the Great Lakes and elsewhere.

FUNNY And OTHERWISE

Overhead on the Bus: "Are you dining anywhere tonight?" She (hopefully): "No, I'm not, Bob."

"Gee! You're hungry by morning."

A male nurse in an insane asylum noticed a patient with his ear close to the wall, listening intently. The patient held up two fingers as a warning to be very quiet; then beckoned him over and said, "Come on."

The nurse put his ear to the wall and listened for some time, then turned to the patient and said: "I can't hear anything."

"No," said the patient, "and it's been like that all day."

Two married men were discussing their joys and sorrows.

"My wife," said one, "is very poetic. She gets up at sunrise and says 'Lo, the morn!'

"Fuh!" said the other, sadly. "Mine says, 'Mow the lawn!'"

When the farmer saw a stranger fishing in his special stream he was very angry but he was too good-natured to laugh when he noticed that the angler was using a carrot as bait.

Later in the day he went to that way again; but he was surprised to see the basket full of fish.

"How could you do that?" he exclaimed.

"On never caught all those with the carrot bait, did you?"

"Of course not," was the calm reply. "I caught you with that."

Both had been having trouble with an ulcerated tooth for some time before she got up enough courage to see a dentist. The moment he touched her tooth she screamed at the top of her lungs: "What are you making such a racket for?" demanded the doctor. "Don't you know that I'm a painless dentist?"

"Well, sah," retorted Dinah, "mebbe yo' is painless but ah isn't."

"I wish I could," sighed the overjoyed lady ruefully as she gazed on the sign in a grocery store reading: "Give your fat to Uncle Sam."

"Did the voyage cure you of your insomnia?"

"Absolutely."

"Well, that must be a relief."

"It certainly is. Why, I lie awake half the night thinking how I used to suffer from it."

Babies of the future, says a physician, will talk at a much earlier age. "When tomorrow's papa visits the hospital for his first sight of junior, he's likely to be greeted with, 'Hello, dad, what's cookin'?"

A very proper and careful woman was engaging a new gardener.

"Have you a reference from your last man?" she inquired.

"No, ma'am," replied the applicant.

"They wouldn't give me one."

"Why?"

"Oh," answered the man, absentmindedly. "I hit one of the warders."

"On the day on which my wedding is redone."

"You'llardon the correction, but affairs such as marriages, receptions, dinners and things of that sort take place."

It is only calamities which "occur". You see the distinction?"

"Yes, I see. As I was saying, the day on which my wedding occurred."

New Locations Staked For 14 Oil Wells

ADOPTED BRITON — Arriving in Canada on the Aquitaine, eight months-old Andrew David Andrew is the first British baby to be adopted since the adoption by a Niagara Falls couple, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Harm, of a baby boy, born in 1946, in Turner Valley, at Baxter Lake and at Egerton.

The baby will have a six-year patron in the North-West Territories, which will result in the immediate formation of the Yellowknife Telephone Company Limited, to eliminate present difficulties of "winking" when the flick of a dial will serve the purpose. ## WEALTH WITHOUT BENEFIT

A certain miserly landowner, in the north of Scotland, was so rigorously exact in the collection of his rents that when one of his tenant farmers was one farthing short in his payment he obliged the man to trudge several miles to procure the miserable sum before granting him a shilling.

"Now, milord," said the farmer, "I wad gie ye a shilling for a sight o' the gowd an' siller ye ha'."

"Well, man," answered the miser, "it's no coat ye ony mair," and he exhibited to the farmer several iron boxes full of gold and silver coin.

"Now," said the farmer, "I'm as rich as yourself."

"Ay, man," said his lordship, "how can that be?"

"Because I have seen it," came the sage reply, "and ye will get nae mair out o' it!"

TRADE UNION

POLICY SCORED

No form of society could exist, based on the principle of trade unions, which is that of a minority gaining advantage for its members at the expense of the majority. Clement Stubbs, secretary of the Western Canada Bituminous Coal Operators Association, told the Second Friday luncheon club of the Board of Trade Friday.

Leading a forum on labor questions Mr. Stubbs asserted that unions formed a vehicle by which Communists, with or without the knowledge of the membership, hoped to gain their political ends. He said unions were a minority, but well organized and vociferous to gain more attention than their numbers warranted.

During the discussion he spoke of working conditions of miners in Canada and said they were not as bad as many people believed or attempted to make out. There were worse slums in the city of Hull than any he had ever seen in any mining towns, he declared. Also working conditions underground, and he himself had worked many years under the surface, were not terribly bad.

He spoke of attempts by government agencies during the war to dramatize the miner's working conditions. A National Film Board unit, he said, had made a picture in Blairmore. As a typical miner's home they used a desert shack, which had been a Chinese laundry but never a miner's home—Calgary Herald.

BRITAIN TO HAVE $68,000,000
CHEMICAL FACTORY

$68,000,000 is to be spent by Imperial Chemical Industries on a new chemical factory at Wilton Tires. The plan is the biggest single industrial project ever undertaken in Britain and when completed will probably form the biggest chemical works in the world. It will give employment to 10,000.

LIGHTER WICK THAT WILL NOT WEAR OUT

It sounds like a contradiction, but it is true—a lighter wick which burns, but will not burn out. Made from glass fibre, it is the first time it has been successfully produced anywhere in the world, and is a United Kingdom development which might never have occurred had it not been for the war in the tropics. Troops in the Far East found that ordinary cotton wicks were quickly eaten away by termites, often even before they were issued from stores. At the request of Britain's Ministry of Supply, the oldest firm of lighter manufacturers in Britain were asked to provide something that would defeat the termites. They did—and discovered that in addition to this quality the wick would not burn away or deteriorate. Thus, once it has been lit, it in a lighter, it never need replacing, nor lifting up.

NUTRITION QUESTION BOX

Mrs. B. J. Lewis, nutritionist for the Home Economics Service of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, says that a question often asked by Alberta housewives is, "Do men doing heavy physical work need more meat than men who are not working so hard?" The answer, contrary to general opinion, is "NO".

Meat is essential chiefly for its protein—the substance needed to build body tissues and keeps them in repair. One good serving of meat or fish, daily, together with other food recommended in Canada's Food Rules, will meet this requirement. Protein foods in greater quantity are used for energy which is less expensively supplied by carbohydrates and fats.

Although meat has a satisfying quality hard to find in other foods, a little ingenuity in meal planning will overcome this objection. To stretch your meat ration Miss Lewis suggests that you try more main dishes using vegetables and white grain cereals with milk, eggs or flour.

REPLACE SHIPS SUNK
DURING WAR

Ninety new vessels were launched from Clyde shipyards last year to replace ships lost by enemy action during the war. They totalled 343,000 gross tons.

G. B. Johnson, Canadian trade commissioner, reports from Glasgow that many Scottish shipbuilders now have work on hand sufficient to keep them busy for two years or more.

At Dundee, Burntisland, Leith and Grangemouth, on the east coast of Scotland, other shipyards launched an additional 55,000 gross tonnage in 1946. These figures compare favourably with ship launchings in Scotland during the year immediately before the war.

Here's a good puzzle game. If one of these paragraphs doesn't make sense (No cracks, please!), try to figure out what the linotype did to it.

my Husband asked my choice

...and I said CHEVROLET

"Why was Chevrolet my choice? Because, like most women, when I shop my one idea is to get the most value for my money—and Chevrolet is the car that gives you just that. As far as beauty, comfort, and all-round quality are concerned, Chevrolet is way up there with the big cars. Yet when it comes to price—well, the price is so much lower it's hardly believable. And another thing I like—the upkeep cost won't strain our family budget! Yes, my choice was Chevrolet, and my husband says I couldn't have chosen better.

Big-Car value in small details, too! Most Chevrolet models have removable head straps, venting rear-quarter panels, ash receiver set into the top of the instrument panel, and either one or two in the rear passenger compartment.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY

Minerva And The Bellerina

By ELAINE FRANCIS

As a baby-sitter she certainly got around. Minerva reflected ringing the bell of the imposing LaBonne home. All types of chores had opened for her in the past few months, due to the shortage of servants, but none more interesting than this one.

"Come in, my dear Miller," Tanya LaBonne cried. "You're just in time to watch me rehearse."

Minerva gazed. Not at the "Miller" wife. Mrs. LaBonne always called her in continental fashion, but at Tanya's exotic beauty. On previous occasions she had been conservatively dressed but today her dark hair was smooth and gathered in a large bun at the nape of her neck and a small bullet corsage was pinned to her dress.

Chattering rapidly, for the former Ballerina was always friendly, always informal, Tanya led the way through the spacious drawing room to the equally large sunroom striped of all furniture. There, it was, the photograph. This she scanned and began to dance. Although Minerva had never attended a ballet in her life, she knew this was magnificent. Her thin body relaxed to the aching, haunting, lovely music.

"Miller, you like it?" Tanya inquired. "So does Billy Dunn. He was my agent before the war and tomorrow night he brings movie scouts and big shots to our show. You know about the agent, right?"

"A person would have to be deaf, dumb, and blind not to," Minerva replied. For the Woman's Club sponsoring the Revue had plastered the town with publicity about the Broadway stars and home talent who would cooperate to raise money for the Food for Victory drive.

"A plush, lush affair, they call it," Tanya giggled. "But it is luck for me. All those years when Don, my husband, was at war, I could not dance. I had to work for victory. But now... I'm a dancer again. I'm a glamour puss and go to Hollywood. He says to spread the wings before it is too late. Ah, Bonnie..." She swooped over to the door and kissed her daughter.

Suddenly it seemed to Minerva that this thirteen-year-old was Tanya's child. The contrast was painful. Bonnie's mudblonde hair, the braces on her teeth, the frilly frock accentuating adolescent bulges... And her face was sullen and dull. What was wrong? Where was the smile that usually transformed her appearance, showed the promise of what was to come?

It was not until late that night that Minerva learned the answer. People always confided in Minerva, and this time she pierced her mother's ear. "Mother is gorgeous, isn't she?" she asked wistfully. "A cinema cliché, her agent says."

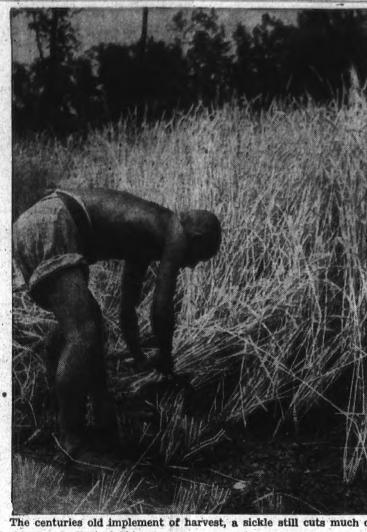

Minerva's movie going had been limited, but she agreed heartily. "It's selling," she cried. "But I wish I could do it. I loved my life just as it was—now everything is spoiled. Mother gets younger every day and I feel more like a Mack truck..."

Minerva patted the child's head. "You'll get over that," she said confidently. "You have on of dad's clothes. You're a doll. I loved my life just as it was—now everything is spoiled. Mother gets younger every day and I feel more like a Mack truck..."

Minerva made the first uncharitable remark of her life. "That was a wicked idea. I used to say, 'I'll tell your mother what you feel and...'

"No," Bonnie said flatly, wiping away her tears. "I'm sorry I mentioned it. Skip it, goodnight."

Minerva could not sleep that night, thinking of Bonnie's unhappiness. At
